DESCRIPTION OF CONTENTS: PROGRAMME

This course will be based on seminars from real HR Managers coming from different companies and industries. The student will be able to learn from real business experiences.

LEARNING ACTIVITIES AND METHODOLOGY

The course will be based on seminars from real HR Managers, the analysis of real business cases, reading of articles and other bibliography recommended by the professor and the discussion and share of ideas. Students will need to read the assigned cases and readings before each class.

Students’ attendance to class and participation in discussions is crucial. They should create opportunities to derive value from the class while making informed contributions to class learning. There are different ways of doing this: responding to questions, supplementing or challenging others’ comments, raising the level of discourse through probing, and asking the right question that illuminates the concept/issues under investigation.

ASSSESSMENT SYSTEM

Students will be evaluated based on the following criteria:
- Attendance (20%)
- Class Participation and Discussion (30%)
- Final project (50%)

Extraordinary call: Final Project (100%)
