LEARNING ACTIVITIES AND METHODOLOGY

The course will be based on some theoretical lectures, the analysis of real business cases, reading of articles and other bibliography recommended by the professor and the discussion and share of ideas. Students will need to read the assigned cases and readings before each class.

Students’ attendance to class and participation in discussions is crucial. They should create opportunities to derive value from the class while making informed contributions to class learning. There are different ways of doing this: responding to questions, supplementing or challenging others’ comments, raising the level of discourse through probing, and asking the right question that illuminates the concept/issues under investigation.

ASSESSMENT SYSTEM

Students will be evaluated based on the following criteria:
- Case analyses and Presentations
- Class Participation
- Final exam

Extraordinary call: Final Exam (100%)

% end-of-term-examination: 60
% of continuous assessment (assigments, laboratory, practicals...): 40
