DESCRIPTION OF CONTENTS: PROGRAMME

The thesis is the culmination of graduate work. Students trained in the master's should demonstrate the knowledge, skills and competencies acquired during their studies through an original thesis work about any specific problems of marketing and market research.

Students should carry out an individual work to demonstrate the knowledge, the skill and the abilities acquired from their studies by solving specific marketing problems of companies in a business environment.

LEARNING ACTIVITIES AND METHODOLOGY

Students will have 2 group lectures about how to develop and write a good master's thesis. The first one will provide the general instructions; and the second session will be about how to approach the project.

Every student will be assigned a tutor, from whom the student obtains proper advice on the thesis. The advisor will provide general guidance in weekly meetings, and will help students refine their topic and develop their argument. The tutorials will be 1-hour weekly meetings during the period of tutorials. Meetings will be organized either as short individual sessions, or as group meetings.

After Students receive the initial feedback, students should develop their work individually.

Important dates:

1. Next to the last week of the third semi-quarterly: Deadline to submit 2 project's proposal ideas.
2. Last week of the third semi-quarterly: Tutors are assigned.
3. First week of the last semi-quarterly: Start of the orientation meeting tutorials with the tutor (6 weeks).
4. Third week of the last semi-quarterly: Deadline to submit a FMT short proposal.
5. Fourth week of the last semi-quarterly: Tutor approves the progress of the project.
6. End of the last semi-quarterly: Early June.
7. First week of July: Deadline to submit the FMT.
