OBJECTIVES

The student shall reach, from the comprehension and critical analysis, a reasonable level of knowledge with regard to the discipline, and shall conveniently learn to solve practical conflicts. The student shall achieve, in this first course, skills in the use of technical legal terminology within the Civil Law, as well as to deal with bibliographic and jurisprudential sources.

DESCRIPTION OF CONTENTS: PROGRAMME

This subject starts with an introduction which aim is to give the student one of the most significant features of our Law: the legal-civil plurality of the Spanish System. It continues with the indispensable study of the person, which is the core and axis of the discipline: beginning and end of it, its capacity, civil protection of the so called personality rights and the regime of the different civil statutes. Also subject to analysis is the general legal regime of artificial or legal persons, and of foundations and associations in particular. The last part of the program is dedicated to the core questions of Private Law, such as the patrimony and its types, the subjective right and its limits, the autonomy of will and act of the law and the representation.

The subject deals with essential matters not only for the Civil Law, but also for other fields of Private Law, so we could speak of an introduction to Private Law.

LEARNING ACTIVITIES AND METHODOLOGY

Three on-site lessons shall be taught every week. A first theory class (magisterial lesson), of one hour and a half of duration, where the basic contents of the program of subject shall be explained. For the adequate understanding of the explanations, the prior reading of the handbook of reference is absolutely necessary. In a second session (practical), also of one hour and a half, practices and workshops shall be made where the students shall legally discuss and argue about the subjects proposed, acquiring the necessary skills for the solution of real situations and conflicts.

ASSESSMENT SYSTEM

% end-of-term-examination/test:	60
% of continuous assessment (assignments, laboratory, practicals...):	40

Ordinary sitting

The definitive evaluation of the student shall take into account the mark obtained during the semester in the compulsory practical sessions (up to a 40%), as well as the mark obtained in the Theory exam (up to 60%).

In order to mark the practical part the following shall be taken into account: the grade obtained in the two multiple choice tests (1 point each), the participation of the student in the class (1 point), as well as the adequate performance of the individual papers entrusted to the students (1 point).

With regard to the theory part of the subject, the grade obtained in the exam at the end of the semester shall be the only thing taken into account to mark it. Said exam shall be a multiple choice test of 20 questions. Incorrect answers shall discount 50% to the value of the correct answers.

To pass the subject, a minimum mark in the final exam shall be required (3 points. 3/6).

Extraordinary sitting

% end-of-term-examination/test:	60
% of continuous assessment (assignments, laboratory, practicals...):	40

If the student has followed the continuous evaluation system, the exam shall have the same percentage value as in the ordinary sitting (60%), and the final mark of the subject shall take into account the mark obtained during the semester in the continuous evaluation system (practical sessions). Therefore, for the extraordinary sitting (linked to the ordinary sitting) the mark obtained during the semester in the practical part shall be ¿kept¿, so that the student only has to take the theory exam.

If the student has not followed the continuous evaluation system, he might take the extraordinary sitting exam with a value of 100% of the total mark of the subject.

Publicity of marks and revisions

The students shall have access to the continuous evaluation system final marks (practical sessions) before the exam period begins. They shall be published in Aula Global.

The final mark of the subject shall be published in the Web within 10 days (from the date of the final exam), through the system provided by the University for the communication of the final marks, indicating the date set for the revision of the exam.

The student can ask to his group teacher for the revision of his final mark if he considers that there is a mistake in it.

No matter if the student has made part of the practical papers within the continuous evaluation system, he shall be marked as NOT ATTENDING if he does not take the final theory exam.

In the ordinary sitting, the students who have not followed the continuous evaluation system shall take a final theory exam with a value of 60% that shall be their only mark.
