LEARNING ACTIVITIES AND METHODOLOGY

The continuous evaluation system is based on a practice-oriented teaching that aims to reinforce the learning of theory through direct experience in cases that should facilitate the understanding and management of its content.

Academic activities are divided into Master Lessons and Practice Sessions.

1. Master classes in which the general lines of the subject matter of the corresponding subject will be exposed.
2. Practical sessions in which specific activities are developed through which a practical vision of the content of the topics will be offered. The activities to be carried out will consist of solving practical exercises, as well as, where appropriate, other control activities such as tests to check the level of knowledge on the topics. These activities will be duly announced in the Global or Virtual Classroom.

Each of these sessions will take place according to the schedule approved by the CUGC.

Due to the pandemic situation produced by the so-called COVID-19, the development of the lectures and practices will be 50% face-to-face and 50% online, with sessions taking place every other month. In any case, due to the uncertainty about the teaching format to which the health circumstances will take us during the next course, the described system can derive towards 100% face-to-face or 100% on-line training as the propagation or control over the pandemic and the hygiene-sanitary norms that the authorities of the sector dictate.

The tutorials will be held at the time and under the conditions determined by the teacher in the Global or Virtual Classroom. Its development-face-to-face or online-will depend on the health situation.

If new extraordinary measures are adopted that oblige teaching to be carried out remotely, it will continue to be taught under the same conditions initially foreseen (with the same programming, methodology, activities, etc.)

ASSESSMENT SYSTEM
