LEARNING ACTIVITIES AND METHODOLOGY

In correspondence with the organization of the course, the evaluation is divided into two separate blocks. The other 60% corresponds to the practical part of the subject with individual assignments linked to each of the topics and also a group work that will be developed throughout the semester and will be presented at the end of the course.

ASSESSMENT SYSTEM

% end-of-term-examination/test:	30
% of continuous assessment (assignments, laboratory, practicals...):	70

The evaluation system will consider the achievements of students during the course through a continuous assessment that will account for 70% of the note, and it will include an examination at the end of the semester that will comprise the remaining 30% of the final grade. To obtain a final evaluation it will be necessary to obtain a minimum grade of 4 in the ordinary or extraordinary exam.

The evaluation will be based on both student input on various sections: comprehensive review, self-assessment exercises, performance and exhibition of practical exercises and class attendance.
