DESCRIPTION OF CONTENTS: PROGRAMME

The Bachelor Degree Thesis aims to give students the opportunity to show the scientific and methodological level they have reached in their studies by conducting work on a specific topic.

The Bachelor Degree Thesis is conceived from a flexible approach:

- Critical analysis of existing scientific studies
- Critical comparison of sociological theories
- Critical review of interpretations of a given topic
- Analysis of previously conducted fieldwork
- Test of application of sociological theories to a case study
- Collection, systematisation and application of primary data to the object of study
- Any other consistent and well founded approach

LEARNING ACTIVITIES AND METHODOLOGY

The Bachelor Degree Thesis can be done following two different paths:

- General: The general modality of the Bachelor Degree Thesis on Sociology is based on the idea that students work on the subject they prefer, always directed and supervised by their tutors. Training activities will include personalised tutoring and orientation sessions or joint seminars.
- Specific: modality in which a student works under the direction of a teacher (not previously appointed as a tutor) who must accept this rol.

ASSESSMENT SYSTEM

According to the rules of the Faculty of Social Sciences and Law, the student's final mark will be the weighted average of the mark awarded by the tutor (with a weight of 30%) and the mark awarded by the tribunal (with a weight of 70%).

The evaluation of the Bachelor Thesis Degree by the tribunal will attend to the following distribution:

- Dissertation (5 points)
- Methodology (3 points)
- Defense (2 points)

The University uses the Turnitin Feedback Studio programme within the Aula Global for the delivery of student work. This programme compares the originality of the work delivered by each student with millions of electronic resources and detects those parts of the text that are copied and pasted. If the student has correctly made the appointment and the bibliographic reference of the documents he uses as a source, Turnitin will not mark it as plagiarism.
