LEARNING ACTIVITIES AND METHODOLOGY

Every week there will be a theory session (in a large group) and a practical session (in a small group). Students must study the contents of each theory session after the session takes place. Exercises and cases must be solved before the corresponding practical sessions. Practical sessions will be devoted to discuss and provide solutions to the exercises that students will have previously worked at. There will also be weekly office hours which will be scheduled by each professor at the beginning of the term.

ASSESSMENT SYSTEM

% end-of-term-examination/test:	50
% of continuous assessment (assignments, laboratory, practicals...):	50

The final grade will be the weighted sum of two partial exams (each counting 20%), weekly assignments (10%) and a final exam (worth 50%). The compulsory materials for all exams include not only the contents of the lectures and practical sessions, but also the chapters of the reference books that are indicated for each topic. Moreover, students will be expected to have a knowledge of the economic, political and social context in accordance with their status of university students, based on the press or other information media.

An absence in any of the partial exams will imply a grade equal to zero in that exam except in case of a medical cause. In that case, the student will have to provide a medical certificate stating that on the day of the exam his health made it impossible to take an exam in normal conditions.

In order to compute the weighted average of all marks, the student must obtain at least 4 points in the final exam. Otherwise, the student will not pass the course.

If the percentage of students with an overall grade of Sobresaliente is less than 10 percent of the students who have taken the final exam in the Degree, the following corrections will be applied:

- a) the top students with a Notable grade will be given a grade of 9 until the 10-percent level is approximately reached.
- b) After the previous correction is made, if the number of students with a Notable grade is below 10 percent, an analogous correction will be made, raising the grades of the top students with an Aprobado grade to 7, until a 10-percent level is approximately reached.
- c) After the previous correction is made, if the number of students with an Aprobado grade is below 15 percent, the grades of the students with the highest Fail grades will be raised to 5 until the 15-percent level is approximately reached.

These percentages will in any case be considered approximate.
