REQUIREMENTS (SUBJECTS THAT ARE ASSUMED TO BE KNOWN)

This is a basic subject, but it requires familiarity with the philosophy subjects studied in this Bachelor.

OBJECTIVES

The primary objective of a course on Feminism(s) must be to familiarize students sufficiently, and sufficiently analytically, with the developments of feminist theories, and of the forms of activism that sustain them in the last two centuries. It is essential, therefore, to know the reasons for the feminist response and its various modulations, covering not only the standard modalities of feminism but also the different developments of LGBTI studies, queer etc.

DESCRIPTION OF CONTENTS: PROGRAMME

A syllabus for this subject should include the following topics: 1) A general introduction, going through the recognizable types of feminism, post-feminism, hegemonic feminisms, mainstream feminism. 2) A revision of the genealogies of exclusion. 3) An analysis of notions as the dichotomies private/public, equality/difference. 4) A revision of the conceptions of sex and genders, as key notions for the opposition nature/discourse. 5) A revision of the queer status, as a deconstruction of binaries. 6) A reflection about the concept of intersectionality and de off-center feminisms, in the context of post-colonial or de-colonial views

LEARNING ACTIVITIES AND METHODOLOGY

AF1. THEORETICAL-PRACTICAL CLASSES. They will present the knowledge that students must acquire. They will receive the class notes and will have basic reference texts to facilitate the follow-up of the classes and the development of the subsequent work.
