LEARNING ACTIVITIES AND METHODOLOGY

LEARNING ACTIVITIES

The collective tutorials are voluntary and complementary to the realization of the course.

The sessions will serve as a refresher and to clarify any doubts, for which reason they will not be used to increase the content of the programmes and are not assessable.

During the sessions, the student can raise questions with regard to the subject matter being given.

These questions can only be raised regarding the explanations given and the student can intervene in class as many times as he/she deems appropriate about any aspect that is not sufficiently clear to them or that requires further explanation due to the special interest caused by the same.

TEACHING METHODOLOGY.

Teacher's lectures with support of computer and audiovisual media, in which the main concepts of the subject are developed. Bibliography is provided to complement the students' learning.

Critical reading of recommended texts:

Press articles, reports, manuals and / or academic articles, either for later discussion in class, or to expand and consolidate the knowledge of the subject.

Resolution of practical cases, problems, etc. raised by the teacher individually or in a group

Exposure and discussion in class, under the moderation of the professor of subjects related to the content of the subject, as well as of practical cases

Elaboration of works and reports individually or in groups.

ASSESSMENT SYSTEM

Ordinary session.

The course will be carried out and evaluated following the content described in the index of the programme from an eminently practical perspective, focused on learning about the different aspects of tort law and the liability of the same. The student should know and be able to apply the differences between liability for criminal, civil and administrative damages during practical case studies.

Ongoing assessment (60%, 25+35).

By means of the preparation of different hypothetical cases, the following will be analyzed:

- (i) the differences between the different types of extracontractual liability for own acts and those of others.
- (ii) the obligation to repair the damage as well as the different forms of remedying the same, quantification of the damages and the compensation claimed.
- (iii) review of the necessary requirements to exercise the civil liability action, identifying the competent jurisdiction, the legitimation, the burden of proof, the limitation period of the action and the waiver.

At each session, each of the sections indicated in the index of the programme will be explained and the student's participation is fundamental. In order to make the sessions as rewarding as possible, prior to each session the subject matter to be given will be provided to the student or an index with the most relevant concepts to be addressed at each session.

For the ongoing evaluation of the course, the participation of the students in class will be taken into account.

Final exam (60%).

The Final Exam will be a practical case related to the subject matter given.

To carry out the case, the student can refer to any type of legislative material, handbooks or papers and case law.

Extra-ordinary session:

End-of-term exam, consisting in a practical case to solve individually: 70% of total mark.

Rest of the mark: permanent evaluation of participation, attitude and intervention of the student during presential classes (30% of the total mark).

The absence of more than 20% of the front classes causes dismissal from the course.

% end-of-term-examination:	40
% of continuous assessment (assignments, laboratory, practicals...):	60
