

Academic Year: (2023 / 2024)

Review date: 20-06-2022

Department assigned to the subject: null

Coordinating teacher:

Type: Compulsory ECTS Credits : 6.0

Year : 2 Semester : 2

LEARNING ACTIVITIES AND METHODOLOGY

Formative Activities

Theoretical-practical classes.

Search for training materials, such as jurisprudence, resolutions, etc. And works of understanding and exposition of the same

Internal internships and individual practical work

It is important that students participate actively in the sessions. Your participation will be essential to qualify the student.

Teaching methodology:

The teaching of the subject is articulated from the development of two classes of actions:

A) Lectures In this case, lectures will be made in class by the teacher with support of computer and audiovisual media, in which the main concepts of each theme are developed

B) Carrying out police training practices, checking security systems, and emergency response procedures.

Tutorials:

After each work session, be it lecture class or practice class, you can develop the tutorials when requested by the students.

ASSESSMENT SYSTEM

The global evaluation of the subject will be carried out from the total continuous evolution, due to the applied content or special characteristics of the subject, the evaluation of the works, presentations, performance in debates, exhibition in class, exercises, practices and work in the workshops throughout the course.

% end-of-term-examination:	0
% of continuous assessment (assignments, laboratory, practicals...):	100