LEARNING ACTIVITIES AND METHODOLOGY

The methodology will include:

1.- Lectures (big group): Every lessons of the programme will be taught in lectures, although lecturers will pay special attention to those parts considered more important or those that, due to their difficulty, deserve a wider explanation. A handbook of the subject will be recommended to make easier the student's work and all the materials considered suitable will be posted online through ¿Aula Global¿

2.- Seminars (small group): Seminars will be used to go into different parts of the subject in depth through the solution of different cases, commentaries, etc. All the materials considered suitable will be posted online through ¿Aula Global¿

This will be the tutorships regime:

Individual Tutorships: Each teacher responsible of a group, will state in aula global a timetable of individual tutorships of at least 1 hour per week, showing the date, time and place of them.

Collective tutorships: Additionally, there are two different means of collective tutorships complementary to the individual tutorships.

a) Tutorships in classroom: The teachers of the small groups will carry out at least one session (and four as maximum) of collective tutorships in classroom with the students as a whole. The Teachers will include these tutorships in the tutorships schedule of Aula global, showing the date, time and place.

b) Consultation session: Moreover, the teacher will be able to make consultation sessions with the students as a whole, along the term, periodically or sporadically. These consultation sessions can be carried out by the teacher responsible of the group or assistant lecturers or research fellows of the department. In any case, the teachers will include in aula global the date, time and place of the consultation sessions.

ASSESSMENT SYSTEM

Assessment System is a mixed one, combining continuous assessment and a final exam to be able to assess in a objective way the level of learning of the student along the term

A) Continuous Assessment.-

Continuous assessment, along the term, will have a weight of 50% on the final mark. Each professor will determine, at the beginning of the course, the kind, content and assessment system of the tests that students will have to do throughout the course.

B) Final Exam.-

Date, time and place of the final exam will be posted online in the UC3M web page.

Final exam will have a weight of 50% on the final mark, and will consist of two different parts: theoretical and practical

Level of comprehension, use of the different concepts involved in the questions and essays, and communication skills will be assessed in all the activities.

Independently of the percentages ascribed to continuous assessment and the final exam, the students have to get a minimum mark of 3 points in the final exam, being 10 points the maximum mark (1,5 of 5 points) to pass the course.

In the extraordinary call, final exam will have a weight of 100% on the final grade, unless the student had carried out the continuous assessment and the system of ordinary call is most favorable to him/her.

% end-of-term-examination: 50

% of continuous assessment (assignments, laboratory, practicals...): 50
