LEARNING ACTIVITIES AND METHODOLOGY

The master classes will be taught in aggregate groups and practical sessions in small groups. Lectures will allow the acquisition of skills necessary to understand the subject and to continue the practical classes. The teaching methodology of practical classes is based on case study, problems of interpretation of rules, tutorials for global use, participation in discussion forums, partial discharge of checks and regular tutorials throughout the course. Attached is the course schedule detailing the teaching methodology will be applied.

ASSESSMENT SYSTEM

1. Ordinary call.
Continuous assessment.
  - Partial controls: 2 partial controls. The students that pass both of them, cannot take the final exam. In this case, the first partial control is 50% of the final grade and the second partial control is 50% of the final grade. The students that fail some partial control have to do the final exam.
  - Final exam is 60% of the final grade for students that have failed some partial control.

2. Extraordinary call.

- A) If the student followed the continuous assessment process, will remain the rating system of the ordinary call and the professor will give the most favorable assessment, the note with the 60% of exam or the note with the 100% of exam
- B) If the student did not follow the continuous assessment process, the student can perform an exam with a value of 100% of the final grade
