LEARNING ACTIVITIES AND METHODOLOGY

The knowledge and attitude competences will be acquired by the students through lectures and by making marketing decisions in which the theoretical concepts are applied. The skills will be developed especially throughout the semester with practical work in groups and their oral presentation in teams.

The 6 ECTS credits of the course correspond to the following structure:

Lectures and theoretical classes: 3 ECTS.

Practicums: 3 ECTS

The theoretical classes will serve to establish the conceptual bases so that the student can correctly develop the set competences. Practicums help to develop diagnostic, evaluation, concepts, integration and application, as well as to develop teamwork, decision making and communication skills.

In this course, students are not allowed to use artificial intelligence tools for completing assignments or exercises proposed by the instructor.

ASSESSMENT SYSTEM

% end-of-term-examination:	50
% of continuous assessment (assignments, laboratory, practicals...):	50

1. The assessment system for the ordinary call is broken down as follows:

50% Final exam

50% Continuous assessment (Marketing decision making simulation game "Quantum": 20% results and 30% analysis of the experience. It is necessary to participate in 70% of the decisions to obtain the results-related grade)

It is necessary to pass the final exam (5/10) to add up the grade of the continuous assessment.

2. The assessment system for the extraordinary call is broken down as follows. The most favorable grade for the student will be chosen among the following:

- a) 50% of the continuous evaluation grade and 50% of the final exam. The exam must be passed (5/10) in order to be averaged.
- b) 100% Final exam
